Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 40, 41, 43, 44, 46-52, 54, 55, and 57 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Morin et al (3,864,252). Morin et al discloses a method of treatment of waste in a fluid and includes the steps of providing a liquid in tank (5) pressurizing the liquid by pump (19) and transferring the liquid (SEE column 3, lines 20-36) to a spray nozzle (26) where it is preheated in coil (25) within a horizontally disposed burner tube (10) prior to directing the spray into an open flame and converting the spray to a gas, wherein the gas volume flows away from the flame toward an open stack (13). Morin et al furthermore includes the steps of cooling (SEE column 3, lines 39-44) wherein condensation is allowed to develop inherently carrying some solids and passing the solution through drain (29) to outside the burner tube; a step further includes depositing solids on a baffle (27) (ie: arresting substances) as the fluid is converted to a gas (SEE col 3, lines 44-51). In regards to claims 58-60, since Morin et al discloses the method as taught by the applicant, the products of distilled water, salt and an expanded gas volume can inherently be produced.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 56 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Morin et al (3,864,252). Morin et al discloses the claimed invention except for burner tube having a substantially vertical orientation. It would have been an obvious matter of design choice to modify the teachings of Morin et al to provide a vertical orientation instead of the disclosed horizontal orientation, since the applicant has not disclosed that having a vertical orientation solves any stated problem in a new or unexpected way or is for any particular purpose which is unobvious to one of ordinary skill. It appears that the claimed feature does not distinguish the invention over similar features in the prior art since, the burner tube (10) of Morin et al will perform the invention as claimed by the applicant with any alteration of the longitudinal axis to the supporting surface.

Allowable Subject Matter

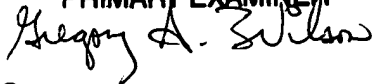

Claims 42, 45, and 53 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
